Third-party Analytics Providers and Ad Servers

When you use our Services, our third-party advertising partners, social media providers, and analytics providers may collect personal information about your online activity on our Services and on third party websites.

These providers may set web tracking tools (e.g., cookies and web beacons, as discussed further below) to collect information regarding your online activity. In addition, our advertising partners may use this information to deliver our advertisements to you. If you would like more information about this practice, please visit <https://youradchoices.com/>. For more information about advertising industry opt outs, please visit the Digital Advertising Alliance's opt-out page (currently available at <http://www.aboutads.info/choices/>) or the Network Advertising Initiative's opt-out page (currently available at <http://www.networkadvertising.org/choices/>) on each of your devices and browsers and, for mobile devices, you can use the AppChoices app at <https://youradchoices.com/appchoices>. In addition, to opt out in mobile apps, you may use your device's setting to opt out of ads personalization or similar settings. Please note that you may continue to receive generic ads that are not based on your preferences.

Cookies and Similar Technologies

We and our partners use various tools to collect data when you visit our sites and apps, including cookies, pixels, localStorage, and other similar technologies ("Cookies"). Some of these technologies store data in the browser or on your device. Other technologies may use network-related or other information to recognize your device (e.g., IP address). Our Services use these technologies, for example, when you first request a web page and data is then stored on your computer or other device so the website or mobile application can access personal information when you make subsequent requests for pages from that Service. These technologies may also be used to collect and store information about your usage of the Services, such as pages you have visited, other content you viewed, and search history. Additionally, we may use these technologies to collect analytics and measure the use of our Services.

We and our partners may also use these technologies to gather personal information about how you view and use our Services and content and to connect your activity with other data we store about you. The use of these technologies helps us serve you better by understanding what you are interested in, tracking trends, measuring the effectiveness of ads, saving your preferences, and storing information you may want to retrieve on a regular basis. We also allow specific, approved partners to collect data from your browser or device for advertising and measurement purposes.

Your web browser can be set to allow you to control these technologies, such as whether you will accept cookies, reject cookies, or to notify you each time a cookie is sent to your browser. If your browser is set to reject cookies, websites that are cookie-enabled will not recognize you when you return to the website, and some website functionality may be lost. The "Help" section of your browser may tell you how to prevent your browser from accepting these technologies, such as cookies. To find out more about cookies, visit www.aboutcookies.org. Depending on the make and model of your phone, you may be able to use device settings to opt out of the use of certain device IDs for targeted advertising. For more information about Google Analytics, please review the site "How Google uses data when you use our partners' sites or apps," located at www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners/. To opt out of Google Analytics specifically, please go to <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

Social Media Cookies. These cookies are used when you visit any public Summit Health page. A social networking website such as Facebook, Twitter or LinkedIn can record that you have visited this page, and could use this information to serve you relevant ads that are in compliance with platform advertising policies.

Pixel Tags. We may use pixel tags (also referred to as clear GIFs, web beacons or web bugs) on the Service to track the actions of users on website. Pixel tags are tiny graphic images with a unique identifier, similar in function to cookies, that are used to track online browsing activity of web users. Pixel tags also allow us to send email messages in a format users can read, and they tell us whether emails have been opened, for example, to ensure that we are sending messages that are of interest to our users. We may use this information to reduce or eliminate messages sent to a user.

“Do Not Track” Signals. Some internet browsers may be configured to send “Do Not Track” signals to the online services you visit. We currently do not respond to “Do Not Track” signals. To find out more about “Do Not Track,” please visit www.allaboutdnt.com.

“View Disclosures”. From time to time, within “Storage Preferences”, we may list a small sample of Cookies used on our site, which you can view by selecting the “view disclosures” link immediately below the respective Cookie category heading. You can access “Storage Preferences” by clicking on “manage preferences” within the Cookie Consent Banner or by clicking on the Cookie icon on the lower right corner of your screen. Any Cookies listed are intended to provide users with a few examples and may not be an exhaustive list. Failure to identify a specific Cookie, or any Cookies, within the “view disclosures” link does not mean that Cookie or general Cookie category is not in use on the site. Unless you refuse the use of the applicable Cookie category, you are consenting to the collection, disclosure, processing and use of your information by all Cookies in that class on the Services regardless of the specific technology used. For more information about managing your preferences, please refer to the Consumer Rights section below.
